OPTION 1

NASAL/ORAL SWAB

This test helps to identify the active infection of SARS-CoV-2. A swab is used to collect material from either the nose or mouth.

RAPID ANTIBODY TESTS

This test is designed to detect antibodies (IgG and IgM) for SARS-CoV-2. This test uses a small amount of blood tested on a rapid test cassette. Results are available immediately.

LABORATORY ANTIBODY TESTING

This test is a traditional blood test processed in a laboratory. It is generally the most accurate form of testing for IgG and IgM antibodies, however, results can take 1-2 days.
